Building Character
Create a classroom environment that promotes respect and kindness. Junie B. is always learning valuable life lessons. Let her evolving insights help your students understand the importance of building good character.

- Use our lesson ideas to help introduce character traits to the class and to emphasize why having such traits promotes a healthy and safe environment where optimal learning and fun can take place.

- Reproduce the included journal cover and journal pages, and use them to help foster good character traits in the classroom throughout the year.

- Have students read all the books in the series and identify and record passages where Junie B. exhibits good character. Conversely, Junie B. often behaves badly at first. Have students record these instances along with suggestions for better ways to handle the situations.

- Students can also keep track of their own good behavior by writing down examples of actions they have taken that promote respect, dignity, perseverance, honesty, kindness, tolerance, responsibility, caring, self-discipline, citizenship, courage, or fairness.

- As each child records something they do that represents good behavior pertaining to a certain character trait, award him or her with a sticker corresponding to that trait so they can add it to their “Build Character with Junie B. Jones” journal entry.

Once the entire class has completed a good deed pertaining to a character trait, display the corresponding journal pages outside the classroom to show the whole school that you are a character-building class!
Classroom Lesson Ideas
Based on Character Traits

RESPECT
Define the term respect and discuss with your class how it is important to be respectful to yourself, meaning that one should be proud of one's actions and behaviors; be respectful to others, meaning that one should be thoughtful and caring to others; and be respectful to resources, meaning that one should take care of one's own and others' belongings. Reproduce the Respect activity and have students write down actions that demonstrate the three areas of respect.

In Boo . . . and I Mean It!, Junie B. is not appreciative of the Halloween treats her neighbors hand out to her. Discuss why her mom was not pleased with her behavior. Ask students to define respect and talk about how it is related to how people treat one another. Is it important to be respectful to others, to others' property, and even to oneself? Discuss if Junie B.'s reaction to the neighbors is respectful. What would have been the more respectful way to handle that situation?

- Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.2.3: Describe how characters in a story respond to major events and challenges.

On page 63 of One-Man Band, Junie B. states in reference to her friend Sheldon, "I like that odd boy. I really, really do." Ask students how this demonstrates respect. Discuss how Sheldon sometimes sees things differently than most. Ask students to share with the class a time when they have been respectful of others' ideas or behaviors, even if they thought they were different or odd. Is it good to be a little different?

- Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.2.3: Describe how characters in a story respond to major events and challenges.

PERSEVERANCE
In One-Man Band, Junie B. learns the importance of perseverance. Define the term for the class and ask them to think how Junie B.'s dad's statement that "when life hands you lemons, you have to learn to make lemonade" relates to the definition of perseverance. Ask students to explain how Junie B. perseveres in this story. Reproduce the Perseverance activity sheet included and have students tell how they have demonstrated perseverance in their lives.

DIGNITY
In Cheater Pants, Mr. Scary is disappointed in Junie B. after she makes the decision to copy May's homework paper. Junie B. then cheats on her spelling test and decides to come clean with Mr. Scary. Define the term dignity and how it relates to the decision that Junie B. makes to tell Mr. Scary the truth. Ask students why it is important that Mr. Scary writes Junie B. a cinquain to let her know that he can trust her again. How do they think this makes Junie B. feel? Reproduce the activity on Dignity and have students write a cinquain in response to Mr. Scary's to let him know that Junie B. understands the importance of dignity.

- Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.3.3: Describe characters in a story (e.g., their traits, motivations, or feelings) and explain how their actions contribute to the sequence of events.

In Toothless Wonder, Junie B. is excited about being the first person in her class to have a loose top tooth, but her excitement dwindles when classmates mention that she might look strange, like Uncle Lou. Discuss with the class how dignity starts with liking yourself and how you look and not caring what others think. How does Junie B.'s grandpa help her cope with not liking how she looks without her tooth?

- Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.3.3: Describe characters in a story (e.g., their traits, motivations, or feelings) and explain how their actions contribute to the sequence of events.

HONESTY
In Cheater Pants, Junie B. learns that doing your own work is not "a suggestion." Define the term cheating and discuss how it relates to honesty and one's dignity. Also define the term cause and effect. Ask students to think about the consequences that occur because of Junie B.'s poor choices.

- Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.3.3: Describe characters in a story (e.g., their traits, motivations, or feelings) and explain how their actions contribute to the sequence of events.

KINDNESS
Discuss how kindness can sometimes defuse a problem. In Junie B. Jones and That Meanie Jim's Birthday, Jim's mean comment and the comments Junie B. makes in retaliation lead Jim to not invite Junie B. to his birthday party. Have students reread pages 10-15 and ask them to pinpoint behaviors that are not kind. Ask students to think of ways Junie B. could have reacted that might have made the situation better, and have students role-play these as a class.

- Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.3.3: Describe characters in a story (e.g., their traits, motivations, or feelings) and explain how their actions contribute to the sequence of events.

TOLERANCE
Throughout the series, Junie B. is sometimes annoyed about the attention her little brother, Ollie, receives. Ollie cries a lot and he needs to be fed, and it sometimes seems to Junie B. that his needs are considered more important than her own. Discuss with the class how, even though we may not be comfortable with someone or a situation, there are times when we need to be tolerant and understanding. Junie B.'s recurring conflicts with May also illustrate a lack of tolerance and understanding. For example, in Turkeys We Have Loved and Eaten (and Other Thankful Stuff), Junie B.'s reaction to May's behavior makes the situation even worse. Ask students how Junie B. could behave differently to show she is more tolerant of others and understands others' points of view.

- Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.2.3: Describe how characters in a story respond to major events and challenges.
RESPONSIBILITY
In Boss of Lunch, Junie B. takes on a job in the school cafeteria. As her dad points out, “A helper makes things easier.” Discuss with the class Junie B.’s responsibilities in helping Mrs. Gutzman. Does she do a good job? Ask students to share jobs they take on that show they are responsible.

_Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.2.1: Ask and answer such questions as who, what, where, when, why, and how to demonstrate understanding of key details in a text._

In Junie B. Jones Is a Graduation Girl, Junie B. does not listen to her teacher’s or her mother’s directions and ends up doing something irresponsible. Ask students to think of ways Junie B. could have been more responsible with her graduation gown.

_Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.2.3: Describe how characters in a story respond to major events and challenges._

CARING
In Junie B. Jones Has a Peep in Her Pocket, Junie B. is afraid of going to the farm. How do Farmer Flores and Mrs. show they care about Junie B. and understand her fears? What do they do to help Junie B. conquer her fears of roosters and the farm? Ask students to share some things they do to let friends or family know they care.

_Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.2.3: Describe how characters in a story respond to major events and challenges._

In Junie B. Jones and That Meanie Jim’s Birthday, Junie B.’s feelings are hurt when Jim doesn’t invite her to his birthday party. How does her family show that they care about her hurt feelings? Ask students to identify things her friends and family do to show that they care.

_Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.2.3: Describe how characters in a story respond to major events and challenges._

SELF-DISCIPLINE
As a class, read Junie B. Jones Is Not a Crook and discuss the importance of self-discipline. Someone took Junie B.’s mittens, and when she goes to the Lost and Found, she finds a backpack she really wants but controls herself and doesn’t take it. She also finds a pen under the water fountain and thinks, “Finders Keepers.” Discuss with the class if this thinking is correct. Ask students how Junie B. exhibits self-discipline when she turns the pen in to the Lost and Found box.

_Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.2.3: Describe how characters in a story respond to major events and challenges._

In Junie B. Jones and Her Big Fat Mouth, Junie B. gets in trouble for shooting off her mouth. Mrs. asks Junie B. to control herself better in class. Ask students to give her some advice on how she can practice self-discipline, which will help keep her out of trouble. Reproduce the Self-Discipline activity sheet and have students write down their tips on how to help Junie B. control herself.

_Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.2.3: Describe how characters in a story respond to major events and challenges._

CITIZENSHIP
In Toothless Wonder, Miss Chris came in to talk about recycling and how it is important not to litter. Define citizenship and discuss the kinds of behavior that demonstrate being a good citizen. Ask the class to explain how recycling and not littering translate into being a good citizen. As a class, make a list of behaviors that exhibit good citizenship, and post it in the classroom.

COURAGE
In Junie B. Jones and That Meanie Jim’s Birthday, Junie B. decides that it’s okay to be the only one not to go to Jim’s birthday party. Discuss the term courage and how Junie B. exhibits courage when she makes this decision. Ask students to share a time when they didn’t want to do something but did it anyway. How are courage and dignity related? Ask students to think of an example where both courage and dignity played into a decision they have made in their own lives.

_Correlates to Common Core Standard CCSS.RL.2.3: Describe how characters in a story respond to major events and challenges._

FAIRNESS
In Shipwrecked, Mr. Scary wants to put on a play and lets Junie B. and José pick their roles first because they gathered the most facts about Christopher Columbus. Ask students why they think Mr. Scary does this. Discuss if the students think this is fair. What do they think would happen if he just let everyone pick at once? Ask students to take on the role of Mr. Scary, and ask them how they would have handled the same situation to make sure everyone had a fair chance to pick their characters for the play.
